

NNPBC Info Sheet

NNPBC advocates for healthy public policy, promotes excellence in nursing practice, increases nurses' contribution to shaping the health system, and influences decisions that affect nurses and the public they serve. By bringing all nursing designations into one association, we ensure that a united nursing voice advances all four nursing designations as key influencers in matters of health, public and social policy in British Columbia.

NNPBC Services

NNPBC is pleased to offer numerous programs, services and educational opportunities to our members. We are adding services all the time so please check our website often!

Just some of what we offer includes:

Free Access to Mental Health and Wellness Resources

Advocacy/Policy and Government Consultations

Linkages to the Nursing Professional Community

Education and Professional Development

Student and New Graduate Resources

Leadership Resources

Webinar Series

Career Advancement

Nursing Awards of Excellence

Free Access to the Electronic Health Library of BC

Nursing Jobs Board

Decision Support Tools & Competencies

Discount Services

Access to Professional Liability & Commercial Liability

Anti-Stigma Workshops

NNPBC Ambassador Program

Council Portals

Other Free Membership Services

Governance Structure

The NNPBC Board is comprised of 13 individuals who represent each nursing designation, students, the public, Chief Nursing Officers (CNOs), the Nursing Education Council of BC (NECBC) and an Indigenous nurse.

Nursing designations are represented by 'Councils'. Councils are made up of elected members of each of the designations and have their own terms of reference. Each Council will appoint two individuals to sit on the NNPBC Board. These individuals will be the Directors of NNPBC and will have fiduciary responsibility for the activities of the organization. Learn more.

#NursingKnows

NNPBC welcomes your questions and comments. Please connect with us by emailing info@nnpbc.com.