

Nurse Practitioner, Regular Full Time, Vancouver, Canada

Providence Health Care \(PHC\) is one of Canada's largest faith-based health care providers, and a leading teaching and research organization. Joining Providence Health Care gives you a chance to join an organization that focuses on providing compassionate care and is committed to translating new research findings into the care that is provided to patients and to creating an environment where teaching and learning are a normal part of any work day.

We are guided by the principle 'How you want to be treated'. Dedicated to creating a healthy community of inspiration and solace, we are an organization that really does care about our patients and staff.

We are looking to add a Full time Permanent Nurse Practitioner to help support our Surgical Program which is located in St. Paul's Hospital.

Job Summary:

In accordance with the Mission, Vision and Values, and strategic directions of Providence Health Care, the position promotes a safe environment for patients, residents, families, visitors and staff.

Reporting to the Program Director for program issues and the Chief of Professional Practice and Nursing for professional issues, the Nurse Practitioner is responsible and accountable for the comprehensive assessment of patients/clients/residents including diagnosing diseases, disorders, and conditions. The Nurse Practitioner initiates treatment including health care management, therapeutic interventions and prescribes medications in accordance with the statutory and regulatory standards, limits, and conditions, and employer policies and procedures. The Nurse Practitioner provides professional guidance to other health professionals and practices autonomously and interdependently within the context of an interdisciplinary health care team, making referrals to specialist physicians and others as appropriate.

The position collaborates with patients/clients/residents and other health professionals to identify and assess trends and patterns that have implications for patients/clients/residents, families and communities; develops and implements population and evidence based strategies to improve health and participates in policy-making activities that influence health services and practices. The position participates in peer review and self-review to evaluate the outcome of services at the patient/client/resident, community and population level.

QUALIFICATIONS

Education, Training and Experience

- Current registration as a Nurse Practitioner with the College of Registered Nurses of British Columbia (CRNBC) plus recent relevant clinical nursing experience.
- Successful completion or in process of completing the Objective Structured Clinical Examination (OSCE).
- Completion of the Basic Cardiac Life Support Course, Level C.

If you want to work for patient focused organization that provides a strong benefits package and an opportunity to grow your career to the next level, please click here or contact kwall@providencehealth.bc.ca

Applications will be accepted until position is filled

To learn more about Providence Health Care, please click on the links below

Click here! |

Like Us! |

Follow Us! |

Follow Us!