

Nurse Practitioner Opportunities

The Ministry of Health has recently created Nurse Practitioner (NP) funded positions for NPs interested in starting patient panels within Patient Medical Homes (PMH). Multiple Vancouver clinics are looking to include a Nurse Practitioner to join their clinical team. As part of a multi-disciplinary approach to full service family medicine, an interested NP would work collaboratively in the team environment, and start their own patient panel as per Ministry requirements.

This will be a full-time salaried position. To cover overhead costs, the Ministry has allocated additional funding for the clinic. This clinic is excited to add to their team a Nurse Practitioner interested in working together to provide primary care for the surrounding community of patients.

This initiative is part of Primary Care Networks (PCNs) evolving in Vancouver. NPs interested in this opportunity should be willing to work collaboratively and participate in PCN development in the community.

Interested candidates should apply to this posting or email the Vancouver Division of Family practice at recruitmentvan@divisionsbc.ca.
